Quelques paroles de Monsieur le Cure

It is summertime, the end of June rapidly approaches.

July is the only month that I can schedule some time off in the present circumstances. This time off involves only weekdays because I cannot readily find a substitute for the weekends, at least as of today.

Given the economic circumstances, I simply do not feel comfortable in an extended vacation. So I intend to do another "staycation" this year. Thanks to the generosity of some parishioners, I do have use of a couple of vacation places. And I am more than happy with this.

I will cancel some of the weekday Masses during July to allow me to take a break from the ordinary routine and to take care of some personal business. Sometimes I may be away, sometimes I will be here engaging in my favorite activity, reading. I ask that you please check the bulletin each week if you plan on attending a daily Mass during the month of July because my plans are not definite. I am trying to finish some work at this moment, and then I will know what I can do.

Please be assured that all of the Mass intentions will be fulfilled. My usual practice is to celebrate Mass when I am on vacation.

I will be here every weekend during July and will fulfill all of my obligations. In the event that I am away during the week, I will make arrangements for a neighboring priest to cover emergencies and funerals.

I will also not be writing during July. You may well end up with mini-bulletins like last July.

I would like to not preach during the Sunday Masses in July, but I am not allowed to omit the sermon on Sundays. Back in the old days, however, the priest did not preach on any of the Sundays during the summer. Lack of air conditioning probably heavily influenced that decision. Besides, July 1 marks the end of my sixth year here. I am quite certain that you are tired of listening to me every Sunday.

I did the "staycation" last summer and really enjoyed the break. I am quite certain that I will again this year.

(Msgr.) Courville
